

SALMON RETURNING TO SOURCE

The day Thay told us the story of the school of Salmon

Swimming across the ocean , against the torrent current, but with Determination to return Home

Returning to the Homeland, where we were born

Regardless of obstacles, determined to persevere

Thay let us know that our Home source is awaiting

Like the thousand years old moon never faded

Even thousands miles away, the love is unchanged

The urgent call to return Home to reunite

The day Thay came to this temporary world, stir up the awake Source

Wake up a myriad of people from their great dreams

Regardless of challenges, never giving up because of the children

Having compassion for the human life of those deeply sinken in

Day by day , drifting in the cycle of birth and death

Blurry , not knowing there is the Awake Destination

And crazily hold on to things , create lots of wrong doing

Make ourselves suffer, make other people suffer

Because of compassion, Thay, with his great vows

Step by step show us the Awake destination

Show us that illusion is not us
Accept the Awake mind is us soon

Thay wakes the illusion up, breaks through the illusion source

Leading us to Thay's serene essence

With supreme wisdom, thay stirs up the restless want

The school of salmon is leaving the ocean to return to their Source
